

POST CARDS

Just received, a lot of Postal Cards of Barre. We have the Leather Cards and Aluminum Pin Trays with Barre Views. Also Post Card Albums.

Barre Book Store,
CARROLL W. MARTIN, Proprietor.
Gordon Block, 140 No. Main St.

NOTICE

We find we have an overstock of Carriages. We are going to sell balance of stock at bargain prices. We have a complete line of all kinds of vehicles and harness. If you will give us a call you will purchase. Will exchange for hay.

K. F. CUTLER'S STABLE
Telephone 131-2
Rear of City Hotel. - - - Barre, Vermont.

TRY A Tip Top Cigar!
Made from the best and finest tobacco. No better five-cent Cigar made.

MARRION'S CORNER CIGAR STORE.
Pipes and Tobacco.
Mileages on All Roads.

WOOD
The place to buy Wood. A large stock of all kinds at the following prices:
Black Wood, per cord.....$2.75
Lime Wood, per load.....2.00
Chair Wood, per load.....2.50
Hard and Soft Wood Slabs.....1.75
Furnace and Shed Wood.
I am prepared to do all kinds of moving and jobbing at reasonable rates.

Coarse and fine Sand for sale in any quantity. Coarse Sand for cementing at my Sand bank on Farwell street.
L. J. BOLSTER,
Telephone 323-3.
283 North Main Street, Barre, Vermont.

FARMING TOOLS!
"76" and the Green Mountain Plows, Corn Planters, Harrows, Rakes, Mowing Machines and a full line of Farm Tools, including repair parts, and Plow Points for almost all makes of plows.
Geo. A. Wales, So. Barre, Vt.

ELECTRIC WIRING
ELECTRIC HEATERS,
ELECTRIC FIXTURES,
ELECTRIC SUPPLIES.
STANDARD ELECTRIC CO.,
R. O. BENNETT,
E. W. SCHOOLS.
199 North Main Street, Barre, Vermont.

O. C. Russell
Plumbing and Heating.
All kinds of modern Plumbing Fixtures in stock. All work guaranteed.
Telephone 15-3.
IN BASEMENT OF WORTHEN BLOCK.

When You Get Standish's Frankfurts and Bolognas You may know they are fresh every day.
Home-made by
W. O. STANDISH.

A DANGEROUS MISTAKE

Barre Mothers Should Not Neglect Kidney Weakness in Children.

Most children have weak kidneys. The earliest warning is bad wetting. Later comes backache, headache, languor.

'Tis a mistake to neglect these troubles. To blame the child for its own distress.

Seek to cure the kidneys—Save the child from deadly kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Barre parents recommend them.

Mrs. B. L. Batchelder of 3 Summer street, Barre, Vt., says: "My little boy suffered since he was a child from weak kidneys and backache. He had headache and dizziness and there was an annoying trouble with the kidney secretions, which were irregular in action, highly colored and full of sediment. Knowing that Doan's Kidney Pills had brought good results to others in our family, I got a box at E. A. Drown's drug store and he began using them. We could soon see that the remedy was helping him. He did not complain so much of the pains in his back, while the action of the kidneys became more regular and the secretions resumed their natural color. Doan's Kidney Pills seem to cure the old and young alike, and I am only too glad to give them my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Getting a Change.

"Oh, it was a terrible trip," said Mrs. Smithers. "There was no sleeping car and we were on the train three days. I didn't have a chance to change my clothes, and Mr. Smithers didn't change his collar or cuffs or shirt. We couldn't change anything on the entire trip." "You are mistaken, my dear," pleasantly remarked Mr. Smithers. "I changed a $5 bill and we both changed cars several times."—Cleveland Press.

LUMBER

Rough or Dressed of all kinds
Dimension Timber.
Orders Filled Promptly.
Satisfaction Guaranteed. Dry Sawdust. We solicit an opportunity to quote prices.

SLOCUM LUMBER CO.
Washington, Vt.

SPRUCE CLAPBOARDS and CEDAR SHINGLES
For Sale at Moscow Mills, East Calais, Vt.

A. DWINELL & SON, PROPRIETORS.

COAL, COAL

We sell the best grades of Scranton, Lackawana and Lehigh Coals. Satisfaction guaranteed. August prices:
Egg, Stove and Nut, - - - $7.80
Grate, - - - 7.00
An extra grade Lehigh at 25c per ton higher. We sell and deliver 2000 pounds for a ton.

D. M. MILES,
122 North Main Street, - Barre, Vt.

BE INQUISITIVE

When you buy Coal this year. It is very important that you should know all about the different kinds. We carry only the best, and can take care of you now before the rush.

Egg, Stove and Nut.....$7.80
Grate.....7.00

CALDER & RICHARDSON,
Phone 45-4.
Depot Square, - - - Barre, Vt.

COAL

Stove, Egg and Nut, - $7.80.
These are the lowest prices for August. Order now.

MORSE & JACKSON,
Telephone 137-21
266 North Main St., - Barre, Vt.

GULF SPRING HOUSE

Is open for the Summer. Special Dinners served on Sundays and Holidays.

A. S. COWLES, Prop.

ICE CREAM

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.
Having put in a new apparatus for freezing Ice Cream, we are prepared to make Ice Cream for picnics, parties, etc., in any quantity required.

VERMONT FRUIT STORE,
A. Glashier, Proprietor,
Hale Block, 133 No. Main St., Barre

THE BARRE DAILY TIMES

THURSDAY, AUGUST 16, 1906.

VARIETY IS THE SPICE OF LIFE.

Insurance is the value of it. Sort up with some of the best insurance known to men. 37th year, doing business in 44 states.

The National Life Insurance Company of Vermont (mutual). Organized in 1850. S. S. Ballard, General Agent. N. B. Ballard, Local Agent, Rooms 2 and 3, Miles Block, Barre, Vt.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Old gold and silver wanted at refiners, prices in exchange for goods at F. E. Burr's.

For Sale.—One baby carriage; one oil stove, almost new. Apply at 94 Summer street, upstairs.

Stone-cutters' glasses, 20c per pair. Lenses, per pair, 5c. F. E. Burr & Co., 85 North Main street.

Reynolds & Son are the local agents for the Pitkin Supply Co. and carry a large stock of Dallett Stone Working Tools.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

Office of the City Treasurer, Barre, Vt., July 10, 1906.

All taxpayers of the City of Barre are hereby notified that the city council of this city have this day placed the tax bill for the year 1906 in my hands for collection and are further notified that said taxes must be paid at this office on or before the 20th day of August, 1906. If not paid on or before that date there will be added to the tax bill five per cent, together with the officer's fees for collection, namely, eight per cent on tax bill, ten cents for the warrant and fifty cents officer's fees. Remember, August 20, 1906, is the last date that you can pay your taxes this year without the conditions above enumerated.

James Mackay, City Treasurer.

WARNING.
For Freeman's Meeting, September 4, 1906.

The freemen of the City of Barre, in the county of Washington and state of Vermont, are hereby notified and warned to meet on Tuesday, September 4th, 1906, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, in their respective wards, at the several voting places hereinafter named, for the purpose of electing a governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer, secretary of state, state auditor, three county senators, two assistant judges of the county court, sheriff, high bailiff, judge of probate court, state's attorney, fifteen justices of the peace, a city representative to represent the city of Barre in the general assembly of the state for two years ensuing, and one representative to Congress.

The following are designated as voting places, viz:

Ward one, Church street school building.
Ward two, Spaulding graded school building.
Ward three, Summer street school building.
Ward four, Beckley street school building.
Ward five, hose house, Blackwell St.
Ward six, city court room, Prospect street.

Dated at the City of Barre, Vermont, this 15th day of August, A. D. 1906.
William Barclay, mayor.

NOTICE TO VOTERS OF BARRE TOWN.

Notice is hereby given that agreeable to act No. 5 of the laws of 1904 we have established additional polling places in this town as follows: At Unity temple in South Barre, and at Miles' hall in Graniteville, the central polling place being at East Barre as heretofore. We have subdivided the voting list and all voters will be obliged to vote at the polling place at which their names are registered. We have placed the names of voters on the list where we thought they could most conveniently vote, but it is the duty of everyone to ascertain on which list their name appears. The board of civil authority will meet to revise said voting lists as follows: At South Barre schoolhouse Saturday, Aug. 11th, at 7 o'clock p. m.; at town clerk's office, Graniteville, Saturday, Aug. 23d, at 2 o'clock p. m.; and the final meeting will be held at East Barre on Wednesday, Aug. 29th, 1906, at 7 o'clock p. m. Persons whose names do not appear on said lists after being completed on the last mentioned date will be delinquent from voting on Sept. 4th.

W. E. Fisk,
N. N. McDonald,
F. M. Allen,
Selectmen of Barre,
Barre, Vt., Aug. 15th, 1906.

The End of the World

Of troubles that robbed E. H. Wolfe of Bear Grove, Ia., of all usefulness, came when he began taking Electric Bitters. He writes: "Two years ago kidney trouble caused me great suffering, which I would never have survived had I not taken Electric Bitters. They also cured me of general debility." Sure cure for all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, blood diseases, headache, dizziness and weakness or bodily decline. Price 30c. Guaranteed by Red Cross Pharmacy.

COLONIAL PAINT

Chemical and Pathological Laboratory, Burlington, Vt.

Report of examination of Specimen No. 40192, for Follensby & Peck, St. Johnsbury, Vt.

Material, Colonial Paint, No. 205, received April 18, '06.

Linseed Oil and Dryer 45 per cent
Carbonate of Lead 34 " "
Zinc Oxide 20 " "

Colored Pigment (called 1 per cent)
C. P. MOAT, per B. H. Stone,
Burlington, Vt., June 11th, '06.

FOR SALE BY S. D. ALLEN,

Depot Square, Barre, Vermont

People In Print

The Grandson of England's Grand Old Man—W. I. Buchanan and the Drago Doctrine—Douma Leaders.

THE coming of age of a grandson of the late William E. Gladstone was an event whose celebration recently attracted interest in England. This young man is W. G. C. Gladstone, and he is a son of the late W. H. Gladstone, M. P. He was born July 14, 1885, but he celebrated the attainment of his majority on July 25 because on that day a statue of Mrs. William E. Gladstone was unveiled at Hewarden. Those who know him fancy they can detect in his countenance and ways resemblances to the Grand Old Man. His friends confidently expect that he will develop political ability and make some fame of his own in due time to sustain the family traditions.

William I. Buchanan, chairman of the United States delegation now in Brazil at the pan-American congress, has been chosen chairman of the committee on the Drago doctrine, which is considered the most important committee of the present conference in view of the conspicuous place in the discussions that this subject has taken. Mr. Buchanan has special qualifications for guiding the deliberations of the committee assigned to the consideration of this question, one which has threatened the peace of more than one conference. He has been minister of the United States to Argentina, of which country Dr. Luis M. Drago, in whose honor the doctrine is named, is a citizen. He was the first minister of the United States to Panama and was director general of the Pan-American exposition, which did so much to promote the idea of the unity of the new world and the value of closer intercourse between the states.

W. I. BUCHANAN, composing it. Mr. Buchanan enjoys especial popularity among Latin-American statesmen and diplomats and in consequence of the influence he possesses his advice on such a subject as the Drago doctrine will, it is believed, carry much weight. The Drago doctrine is the principle that no force shall be used by any power in the collection of debts owed to its citizens by citizens of another power. Sometimes it has been termed an expansion of the Calvo doctrine, which was so called in honor of the Argentine jurist of that name who died about a dozen years ago.

Senator Overman of North Carolina was making his speech on railroad rate regulation. There were few Democrats listening and but one solitary senator on the Republican side, although the argument was a very able one.

Senator Spooner stuck his head through the cloakroom door. He saw the solitary Republican senator and said, "Ah, man and Overman!"

When William J. Bryan visited St. Petersburg and attended the sessions of the Russian duma one of the deputies who guided him about the chamber was Alexy Aladyin, the peasant leader and exponent of radical ideas. In the accompanying picture this member of the defunct Russian parliament does not look much like a peasant, as he is dressed like an English swell. He often appears with kid glove in one hand and cigarette in the other. He lived six years in England and since that time has affected an English dress. He is a university graduate and speaks English fluently. In his speeches in the duma he had much to say about the French revolution and was wont to indulge in great invective. As an orator he has a ready flow of rhetoric, and the workmen are readily influenced by his arguments. In the duma he had many clashes with representatives of the government and once made a speech denouncing Goremeykin, when the latter was premier, to his face.

At the end of an impassioned denunciation of the cabinet he declared, "We have one and the same answer ready for the ministers. When will you find in yourselves enough decency, enough honorable feeling, to take yourselves off from these benches?" Aladyin is twenty-nine years of age and once fled from Russia to avoid imprisonment on account of his revolutionary ideas. While in England he worked as a dock laborer.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt of Missouri, who figured prominently in the sessions of the interparliamentary union in London, has been an ardent advocate of international arbitration, and his work in this field caused him to be talked of as a possible recipient of the Nobel peace prize. It was largely through his efforts that the interparliamentary union, which is composed of members of the national legislatures of nearly all countries in which such institutions exist, met in this country in 1904 at St. Louis during the Louisiana Purchase exposition. He presided over the sessions of the union at that time and was the spokesman when the members of the conference called on President Roosevelt. He and Mr. Roosevelt have long been intimate friends. When the president was a member of the New York legislature Mr. Bartholdt was a newspaper correspondent at Albany, and in their walks and talks in the Empire State capital in those days the congressman met him, who was born in Germany, helped the president to be master the German language. The Missouri representative often talks in congress on the subject of peace and disarmament.

The last time a big naval programme was up for discussion the president sent for Mr. Bartholdt and talked to him in his usually forceful manner. When he returned to the capitol Mr. Bartholdt was strongly in favor of the presidential programme, including a new battleship.

"What's that got to do with peace, Bartholdt?" inquired a colleague. Bartholdt is a profoundly serious statesman. "Formerly," said he, "I was unable to see any connection between peace and a battleship, but while at the White House just now I gave the subject further consideration, and on sober second thought I perceived that the interests of one will best be subserved by the other."

monary ideas. While in England he worked as a dock laborer.

Congressman Richard Bartholdt of Missouri, who figured prominently in the sessions of the interparliamentary union in London, has been an ardent advocate of international arbitration, and his work in this field caused him to be talked of as a possible recipient of the Nobel peace prize. It was largely through his efforts that the interparliamentary union, which is composed of members of the national legislatures of nearly all countries in which such institutions exist, met in this country in 1904 at St. Louis during the Louisiana Purchase exposition. He presided over the sessions of the union at that time and was the spokesman when the members of the conference called on President Roosevelt. He and Mr. Roosevelt have long been intimate friends. When the president was a member of the New York legislature Mr. Bartholdt was a newspaper correspondent at Albany, and in their walks and talks in the Empire State capital in those days the congressman met him, who was born in Germany, helped the president to be master the German language. The Missouri representative often talks in congress on the subject of peace and disarmament.

The last time a big naval programme was up for discussion the president sent for Mr. Bartholdt and talked to him in his usually forceful manner. When he returned to the capitol Mr. Bartholdt was strongly in favor of the presidential programme, including a new battleship.

"What's that got to do with peace, Bartholdt?" inquired a colleague. Bartholdt is a profoundly serious statesman. "Formerly," said he, "I was unable to see any connection between peace and a battleship, but while at the White House just now I gave the subject further consideration, and on sober second thought I perceived that the interests of one will best be subserved by the other."

The mileage of General Leonard Wood was before the senate committee on military affairs.

"Wood was originally a doctor," remarked Secretary Taft, who was testifying. "And now he's a soldier," said Senator Scott.

"Yes," put in Senator Pettus, "he has gone out of the retail business of killing people into the wholesale."

Another of the radical leaders of the duma who since its dissolution have been working to advance the cause of the people is M. Rodicheff. He was considered by many the greatest orator on the floor. He is a handsome man with a ringing voice. His popularity with the duma members was unbounded, and he had more away than any of his fellows over the peasants in the parliament. He was once banished as a result of his radical utterances. For years he remained away from his home, and in the meantime even Russia had progressed to a point where the people were permitted to choose their representatives in parliament. Rodicheff's district chose him to go to the duma, and it was his privilege on the opening day to reply to the address of the czar, which he did in a memorable speech that aroused great enthusiasm among the deputies.

When the reports about the pope's recent illness reached the public there began to come to the Vatican suggestions and remedies from well meaning but mistaken friends in various parts of the world. In speaking of these the pope said to a foreign prelate who visited him: "I have been offered the services of doctors and medicines from all over the world, and the pious people who sent the offers seem to think that their doctors and medicines are infallible. I am very thankful and grateful for the offers, but I cannot persuade myself to take any of the drugs. I am sure there is enough stuff to make an international drug store. I cannot possibly think of swallowing any of the drugs."

Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore, president of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' association, who recently returned from a conference in England with the Mutual Life policy holders in that country, believes that the independent holders of policies will score a great victory in the coming election of Mutual Life trustees. Mr. Baker is president of the Atlantic Transport company and very wealthy, but he lives modestly and gives a great deal of his money away. When the Spanish war broke out he presented to the United States government free of charge the big steamer Missonri, which was operated for nine months as a hospital ship at a monthly expense to Mr. Baker of $5,000. When the Boer war came he gave the steamship Maine to the British government for the same humane purpose. He is exceedingly generous to his thousands of employees. At the Mann-Collier trial some months ago Mr. Baker appeared as a witness for Collier's and testified that Town Topics had "roasted" him when he refused to advertise in its columns.

Another of the radical leaders of the duma who since its dissolution have been working to advance the cause of the people is M. Rodicheff. He was considered by many the greatest orator on the floor. He is a handsome man with a ringing voice. His popularity with the duma members was unbounded, and he had more away than any of his fellows over the peasants in the parliament. He was once banished as a result of his radical utterances. For years he remained away from his home, and in the meantime even Russia had progressed to a point where the people were permitted to choose their representatives in parliament. Rodicheff's district chose him to go to the duma, and it was his privilege on the opening day to reply to the address of the czar, which he did in a memorable speech that aroused great enthusiasm among the deputies.

When the reports about the pope's recent illness reached the public there began to come to the Vatican suggestions and remedies from well meaning but mistaken friends in various parts of the world. In speaking of these the pope said to a foreign prelate who visited him: "I have been offered the services of doctors and medicines from all over the world, and the pious people who sent the offers seem to think that their doctors and medicines are infallible. I am very thankful and grateful for the offers, but I cannot persuade myself to take any of the drugs. I am sure there is enough stuff to make an international drug store. I cannot possibly think of swallowing any of the drugs."

Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore, president of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' association, who recently returned from a conference in England with the Mutual Life policy holders in that country, believes that the independent holders of policies will score a great victory in the coming election of Mutual Life trustees. Mr. Baker is president of the Atlantic Transport company and very wealthy, but he lives modestly and gives a great deal of his money away. When the Spanish war broke out he presented to the United States government free of charge the big steamer Missonri, which was operated for nine months as a hospital ship at a monthly expense to Mr. Baker of $5,000. When the Boer war came he gave the steamship Maine to the British government for the same humane purpose. He is exceedingly generous to his thousands of employees. At the Mann-Collier trial some months ago Mr. Baker appeared as a witness for Collier's and testified that Town Topics had "roasted" him when he refused to advertise in its columns.

Another of the radical leaders of the duma who since its dissolution have been working to advance the cause of the people is M. Rodicheff. He was considered by many the greatest orator on the floor. He is a handsome man with a ringing voice. His popularity with the duma members was unbounded, and he had more away than any of his fellows over the peasants in the parliament. He was once banished as a result of his radical utterances. For years he remained away from his home, and in the meantime even Russia had progressed to a point where the people were permitted to choose their representatives in parliament. Rodicheff's district chose him to go to the duma, and it was his privilege on the opening day to reply to the address of the czar, which he did in a memorable speech that aroused great enthusiasm among the deputies.

When the reports about the pope's recent illness reached the public there began to come to the Vatican suggestions and remedies from well meaning but mistaken friends in various parts of the world. In speaking of these the pope said to a foreign prelate who visited him: "I have been offered the services of doctors and medicines from all over the world, and the pious people who sent the offers seem to think that their doctors and medicines are infallible. I am very thankful and grateful for the offers, but I cannot persuade myself to take any of the drugs. I am sure there is enough stuff to make an international drug store. I cannot possibly think of swallowing any of the drugs."

Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore, president of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' association, who recently returned from a conference in England with the Mutual Life policy holders in that country, believes that the independent holders of policies will score a great victory in the coming election of Mutual Life trustees. Mr. Baker is president of the Atlantic Transport company and very wealthy, but he lives modestly and gives a great deal of his money away. When the Spanish war broke out he presented to the United States government free of charge the big steamer Missonri, which was operated for nine months as a hospital ship at a monthly expense to Mr. Baker of $5,000. When the Boer war came he gave the steamship Maine to the British government for the same humane purpose. He is exceedingly generous to his thousands of employees. At the Mann-Collier trial some months ago Mr. Baker appeared as a witness for Collier's and testified that Town Topics had "roasted" him when he refused to advertise in its columns.

Another of the radical leaders of the duma who since its dissolution have been working to advance the cause of the people is M. Rodicheff. He was considered by many the greatest orator on the floor. He is a handsome man with a ringing voice. His popularity with the duma members was unbounded, and he had more away than any of his fellows over the peasants in the parliament. He was once banished as a result of his radical utterances. For years he remained away from his home, and in the meantime even Russia had progressed to a point where the people were permitted to choose their representatives in parliament. Rodicheff's district chose him to go to the duma, and it was his privilege on the opening day to reply to the address of the czar, which he did in a memorable speech that aroused great enthusiasm among the deputies.

When the reports about the pope's recent illness reached the public there began to come to the Vatican suggestions and remedies from well meaning but mistaken friends in various parts of the world. In speaking of these the pope said to a foreign prelate who visited him: "I have been offered the services of doctors and medicines from all over the world, and the pious people who sent the offers seem to think that their doctors and medicines are infallible. I am very thankful and grateful for the offers, but I cannot persuade myself to take any of the drugs. I am sure there is enough stuff to make an international drug store. I cannot possibly think of swallowing any of the drugs."

Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore, president of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' association, who recently returned from a conference in England with the Mutual Life policy holders in that country, believes that the independent holders of policies will score a great victory in the coming election of Mutual Life trustees. Mr. Baker is president of the Atlantic Transport company and very wealthy, but he lives modestly and gives a great deal of his money away. When the Spanish war broke out he presented to the United States government free of charge the big steamer Missonri, which was operated for nine months as a hospital ship at a monthly expense to Mr. Baker of $5,000. When the Boer war came he gave the steamship Maine to the British government for the same humane purpose. He is exceedingly generous to his thousands of employees. At the Mann-Collier trial some months ago Mr. Baker appeared as a witness for Collier's and testified that Town Topics had "roasted" him when he refused to advertise in its columns.

Another of the radical leaders of the duma who since its dissolution have been working to advance the cause of the people is M. Rodicheff. He was considered by many the greatest orator on the floor. He is a handsome man with a ringing voice. His popularity with the duma members was unbounded, and he had more away than any of his fellows over the peasants in the parliament. He was once banished as a result of his radical utterances. For years he remained away from his home, and in the meantime even Russia had progressed to a point where the people were permitted to choose their representatives in parliament. Rodicheff's district chose him to go to the duma, and it was his privilege on the opening day to reply to the address of the czar, which he did in a memorable speech that aroused great enthusiasm among the deputies.

When the reports about the pope's recent illness reached the public there began to come to the Vatican suggestions and remedies from well meaning but mistaken friends in various parts of the world. In speaking of these the pope said to a foreign prelate who visited him: "I have been offered the services of doctors and medicines from all over the world, and the pious people who sent the offers seem to think that their doctors and medicines are infallible. I am very thankful and grateful for the offers, but I cannot persuade myself to take any of the drugs. I am sure there is enough stuff to make an international drug store. I cannot possibly think of swallowing any of the drugs."

Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore, president of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' association, who recently returned from a conference in England with the Mutual Life policy holders in that country, believes that the independent holders of policies will score a great victory in the coming election of Mutual Life trustees. Mr. Baker is president of the Atlantic Transport company and very wealthy, but he lives modestly and gives a great deal of his money away. When the Spanish war broke out he presented to the United States government free of charge the big steamer Missonri, which was operated for nine months as a hospital ship at a monthly expense to Mr. Baker of $5,000. When the Boer war came he gave the steamship Maine to the British government for the same humane purpose. He is exceedingly generous to his thousands of employees. At the Mann-Collier trial some months ago Mr. Baker appeared as a witness for Collier's and testified that Town Topics had "roasted" him when he refused to advertise in its columns.

Another of the radical leaders of the duma who since its dissolution have been working to advance the cause of the people is M. Rodicheff. He was considered by many the greatest orator on the floor. He is a handsome man with a ringing voice. His popularity with the duma members was unbounded, and he had more away than any of his fellows over the peasants in the parliament. He was once banished as a result of his radical utterances. For years he remained away from his home, and in the meantime even Russia had progressed to a point where the people were permitted to choose their representatives in parliament. Rodicheff's district chose him to go to the duma, and it was his privilege on the opening day to reply to the address of the czar, which he did in a memorable speech that aroused great enthusiasm among the deputies.

When the reports about the pope's recent illness reached the public there began to come to the Vatican suggestions and remedies from well meaning but mistaken friends in various parts of the world. In speaking of these the pope said to a foreign prelate who visited him: "I have been offered the services of doctors and medicines from all over the world, and the pious people who sent the offers seem to think that their doctors and medicines are infallible. I am very thankful and grateful for the offers, but I cannot persuade myself to take any of the drugs. I am sure there is enough stuff to make an international drug store. I cannot possibly think of swallowing any of the drugs."

Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore, president of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' association, who recently returned from a conference in England with the Mutual Life policy holders in that country, believes that the independent holders of policies will score a great victory in the coming election of Mutual Life trustees. Mr. Baker is president of the Atlantic Transport company and very wealthy, but he lives modestly and gives a great deal of his money away. When the Spanish war broke out he presented to the United States government free of charge the big steamer Missonri, which was operated for nine months as a hospital ship at a monthly expense to Mr. Baker of $5,000. When the Boer war came he gave the steamship Maine to the British government for the same humane purpose. He is exceedingly generous to his thousands of employees. At the Mann-Collier trial some months ago Mr. Baker appeared as a witness for Collier's and testified that Town Topics had "roasted" him when he refused to advertise in its columns.

Another of the radical leaders of the duma who since its dissolution have been working to advance the cause of the people is M. Rodicheff. He was considered by many the greatest orator on the floor. He is a handsome man with a ringing voice. His popularity with the duma members was unbounded, and he had more away than any of his fellows over the peasants in the parliament. He was once banished as a result of his radical utterances. For years he remained away from his home, and in the meantime even Russia had progressed to a point where the people were permitted to choose their representatives in parliament. Rodicheff's district chose him to go to the duma, and it was his privilege on the opening day to reply to the address of the czar, which he did in a memorable speech that aroused great enthusiasm among the deputies.

When the reports about the pope's recent illness reached the public there began to come to the Vatican suggestions and remedies from well meaning but mistaken friends in various parts of the world. In speaking of these the pope said to a foreign prelate who visited him: "I have been offered the services of doctors and medicines from all over the world, and the pious people who sent the offers seem to think that their doctors and medicines are infallible. I am very thankful and grateful for the offers, but I cannot persuade myself to take any of the drugs. I am sure there is enough stuff to make an international drug store. I cannot possibly think of swallowing any of the drugs."

Bernard N. Baker of Baltimore, president of the Mutual Life Policy Holders' association, who recently returned from a conference in England with the Mutual Life policy holders in that country, believes that the independent holders of policies will score a great victory in the coming election of Mutual Life trustees. Mr. Baker is president of the Atlantic Transport company and very wealthy, but he lives modestly and gives a great deal of his money away. When the Spanish war broke out he presented to the United States government free of charge the big steamer Missonri, which was operated for nine months as a hospital